President Satterwhite asked if there were updates or topics new to their school they wanted to mention. Discussion as follows:

Paris High School – Rob Boyars reported that Paris now has a full time technology person. Paris has undergone administrative changes that have changed the environment positively. They will have an Accounting II class next year. Rob said that he has 30 in cooperative education. He also stated that we are working with Shilo's new business teacher, Julia North. She is observing and borrowing their curriculum.

Beecher City – Kristy reported that they have a leadership class develop a service project for a student that had cancer and raised $1,500 in their Square Up Against Cancer fundraiser.

It was also reported that they have a Technology Coordinator position open and that person will teach a few classes. Flora has a graphics arts class, but low accounting numbers as they have dropped from 67 to 7 in recent years. They teach keyboarding, information technology, and business technology. There is no official guidance counselor to assist with classes.

Eastern Illinois University – Jean Cornell is a full time student at EIU and reported that the numbers are stable at EIU, however small still.

Lake Land College – Kathy Daugherty reported that they are updating to Office 2016 this year. They are also very proud of their business colleague, Scott Rhine, who received the Outstanding Faculty Award from LLC. The annual Business Contest is on April 27 and they all encourage schools to register.

Cumberland High School – Tracy Morgan reported that her students have shown interest in Accounting II, but it's not in the schedule at this time.

Charleston High School – Janice Barger reported that they have full schedules.

There are funds to pay for your trip if you seek them out from the regional office.
